

The rush for the West, this Spring, surpasses anything ever before witnessed. Through every avenue, a perfect torrent of humanity is pouring and "the cry is, still they come!" So great has been the exodus, that every railroad and steamboat line has reached a golden harvest, and all confess, that the like has not been witnessed since the days of the Goths and Vandals. Moved by a simultaneous impulse, the ever restless Yankees may be seen descending from the pine-hills of Maine, from the granite mountains of Massachusetts, from the banks of the Hudson, the Delaware, and the Potomac, and turning his face westward, as the pilgrim to the Mecca of his devotion. These restless spirits, like the children of Israel, when once their feet touch the "Promised Land," scatter in every direction, locating themselves wherever interest or inclination may direct—some in Minnesota, some in Iowa—in Kansas and Nebraska—some overtaking the Rocky barrier and settle down far toward "the gates of sunset" in Washington and Oregon—others, blinded by religious zeal, follow in the trail of the false prophet, to eat the apples of Sodom in the valley of Salt Lake. The Old World, too, is opening her flood-gates and letting out her starveling millions, who seek, in the Western world, a home where labor is rewarded and manhood's true nobility recognized. The result of all this is, that the great West is filling up with a race of hardy pioneers, and shrewd, intelligent, free-thinking Yankees, the founders of a new empire than Greece or Rome ever beheld. The homes of Freedom, like jewels along the prairies in every direction. Even Missouri, self-dedicated Missouri, could not withstand the "Abolition invasion." She is now making a desperate effort to shake off the curse of Slavery, which, like a brooding nightmare, has held her so long spell-bound; wheel into line, and keep step to the tune of march, march, march! The rise of property in St. Louis, consequent upon this change of sentiment, is truly astonishing. Thousands are locating in the State, and the waste and desolated lands are all being taken up. Thus is Free Labor gradually effecting the emancipation of the Border Slave States.

The decision of the Supreme Court.

The issue plainly presented.

The principal points of law and comity, raised by the Supreme Court of Ohio, in the Pinckney case, and delivered by Judge Bowen, were the following:

1. That neither Ohio nor Kentucky can demand an abrogation of the Constitution and municipal laws of the other, as a matter of comity; and if a person, claimed as a slave in Kentucky, comes into Ohio by the direction or consent of his owner, even for a temporary business purpose, the constitution and laws of Ohio operate on the condition of such person, and effect his immediate emancipation.

2. When a person held in slavery by the municipal law of the State in which he lives, once becomes free by virtue of the laws of another country or State, into which he goes by the consent of his owner, it is not in the power of the latter ever to reduce him again to his former condition of servitude, under any law which this court can recognize as valid.

3. By laws of Kentucky, a person who is held and treated as a slave, has no capacity to make any contract whatever; and promissory notes given to his master by himself and sureties for him, in the purchase of his freedom, are illegal and void, as to both principal and sureties.

This is the position held by the Republican party. The Democracy endorse the principles embraced in the Dred Scott decision, viz: That a negro has no recognized rights, under the Constitution, that he cannot sue before a court, that no act of his or of his master can free him from Slavery and that a slaveholder may bring his "chattel" into a Free State and hold him there in transitu, a day, a week or a month, by the law of inter-state comity. Here is the question. The issue is fairly presented—let it go before the people.

The Price of Wool.

It has been asserted, that, owing to the discriminating tariff, imposed by the last Congress, the price of fine wool would decline this season. But as the act does not take effect, until July, such will not be the case. From what we can gather, we infer that the prices will come up to, if not exceed, those paid last year. We would advise our farmers not to be too hasty in parting with their wool and to put no faith in these croakers, that go about the country raising false alarms.

Treat 'em Out.

Among the candidates suggested by the Democratic press, to be elected next fall, on the gubernatorial race-track, are H. B. Payne, of Cleveland; G. W. Manypenny, of Muskingum; Gen. McDowell, of Highland; Gen. McLaughlin, of Richland; Judge Kannon, of Belmont; Josiah Bailey, of Duane; Geo. W. McCool, of Jefferson; Saml. Lakin, of Stark; and Davis, Tod, of Mahoning.

The Dred Scott decision of Judge

Taney after numerous revisions and corrections, has at length been officially published. It has not been modified, and is the same substantially as that published

New Publications.

Chas. & Peterson, Publishers, Philadelphia, are about to issue from the press two valuable contributions to American literature. The first is Col. J. C. Fremont's Explorations, prepared by the author and giving an account of his five expeditions across the Rocky Mountains, into Mexico, California and Oregon, embracing a period of ten years. It abounds in thrilling adventures and is superbly illustrated by pictures, both from the pen of the author and the pencil of the best artists in the country. The book will be much sought after and read, not only by the political friends of Col. Fremont, but the reading public generally.

The other is a Biography of the late Eliza Kent Kane, the Arctic Explorer, compiled and prepared by Dr. Wm. Elder of Philadelphia. It contains an account of his early life and travels in different countries, previous to his Arctic voyage, and will bring before the public many facts and incidents, hitherto unknown. We have no doubt, it will be a work worthy of the hero and the author. Few men have been more useful to their age and more universally respected than the living Fremont and the departed and much lamented Dr. Kane.

The Iron Fence around the State House.

The bids for the iron fence around the State House at Columbus were opened on Saturday last, and the contract awarded to N. T. Horton, of Cincinnati. The following was Mr. Horton's bid:

Fence - - - $ 7.50 per foot.
Small Gates - 75 00 each.
Large Gates - 200 00 per pair.
Railroad Iron - 35 00 per ton.

There are 2,495 feet of fence, which will cost $18,750; four double gates, $800, and four single gates, $800—making in all $19,850. Then Mr. Horton agrees to take the old railroad iron, estimated at sixty tons, at $35 per ton, which comes to $2,100, which leaves a balance for cost of the fence now to be built of $17,650.

This is a slight reduction upon the $19,000 fence that the Locofoos press have so zealously paraded before the public, as a bugbear to frighten them into the support of the Democratic party next fall. All their other charges are equally groundless and fall like spent arrows, harmless to the ground. It is a ruse, to divert the attention of the people from their own raciaities, so that they may escape their merited doom. The fact is the last Legislature was the most economical, judicious and intelligent, that has convened for many years. By guarding against useless outlays, they have curtailed the expenses of the State at least half a million of dollars.

Notice to the friends of the Bible Society in Seneca Co.

At a late meeting of the managers of the Seneca Co. Bible Society, Rev. J. Pelan, the Sec. of the society, was appointed to correspond with the Pastors and Christian churches of Seneca Co., to procure their aid in taking up collections in their congregations, and to assist the Society in its laudable work of supplying our entire population with the word of God. He will also visit personally and present the claims of the society where it may be necessary. The society intends this as a preliminary measure, in order to a general exploration of the wants, and a full supply of our entire county with the word of God, during the coming season.

As the American Bible Society are now engaged in a general supply of our whole country, we deem it our duty, as an auxiliary society, to provide for the supply of our own portion of this extensive field.

ROBERT ANDREWS, Pres.

It is understood that Thomas H. Ford will not be a candidate for re-election to the office of Lieut. Governor. N. H. Vanvorhes, the speaker of the last House of Representatives, has been spoken of in connection with the office. He would make an able and efficient officer.

The latest advices from Kansas are to the effect, that the trials of Gov. Robinson and other Free State men, for treason, would be disposed of, by the Government entering a nolle prosequi, and that they would be dismissed.

Political Corruption.

No attentive observer of the workings of the machinery of Government can fail to perceive, that among public men, uncompromising, incorruptible honesty is a virtue which is extremely rare. It would almost seem that the road to political eminence is surrounded with a peculiar atmosphere, which the aspirant for promotion no sooner inhales, than it taints his moral constitution and corrupts the vitals of his integrity.

Nor is this true alone of one single government, or of any particular system of polity. Public dishonesty is an evil which has infected every nation and every system of government. It has existed in Democracy, Aristocracy, and Despotism. But in a Republic its effects are the most to be dreaded. It is an evil which ever has, and from its nature ever must, unless checked, prove fatal to human freedom. It ruined Grecian and Roman liberty, and has caused every experiment which has hitherto been made, of pure Democracy, to fail every system, which has been devised for the entire social and political equality of the masses, to result in immense abortions. No candid, intelligent American will deny that this monster of Corruption, which nourishes itself by feeding on the vitals of the nation, has in our government been for years fearfully increasing in size and strength, until it has extended its roots into every part of the body politic.

Governments which derive their legitimate authority directly from the people, have a natural tendency to develop a certain kind of talent which is remarkably skillful in discerning the least variation in the current of public opinion, and in seizing the precise opportunity for turning that change to advantage; and hence Republics have always been extremely fruitful in men who without regard for their country's welfare, intent only on self exaltation, modify their principles to suit the exact temperature, of the feeling of the dominant party. From these therefore the party in power always receives the most obsequious adulation, and the most servile obedience. And when that party meditates schemes, which would be subversive of the principles upon which the government was founded, these are the instruments which it always employs, too often with success, to blind the people to their true interests, and the danger which impends them. And thus it is, that Commonwealths have been overthrown and peoples imagining themselves secure have been suddenly astonished, by finding themselves powerless in the hands of tyrants who without the help of these sycophants could never have succeeded in concealing from their view the chains which they had been so long forging. Such has been the fate of Republics; and our history thus far corresponds with theirs, and true-hearted patriots are looking forward with fearful apprehensions to the day which must decide our destiny. A privileged class controls our government which meditates designs utterly subversive of those grand principles of human freedom, on which the men of '76 staked their fortunes and their lives, and for which they played the fearful game of the Revolution. Its chief reliance for success is on its cringing parasites who infect every portion of our Commonwealth. It is their business by presenting false issues to the people, by hiding from them the real designs of this oligarchy to hulk them into profound security till one by one those plans are consummated. Hitherto they have been but too successful.

These obedient tools of the Slave-power have quitted the fence of the people, while it, by their help has successfully, flagrantly violated the principles of our Constitution, and steadily encroached upon those liberties which it guarantees. They soothed the agitation which was roused by the passage of the "Fugitive Slave Act," and again they succeeded in smothering the spark which was ready to blaze into a flame, when the oligarchy burst violently through those limits, by which the statesmen of 1850 thought that in this land, whose constitution is based upon the eternal principles of liberty, they had circumscribed the curse of Human Slavery forever. Again when the freemen of Kansas were driven by armed ruffians from the ballot-box, the only security of their liberties; when slaughter, devastation and rapine were the order of the day, and the whole weight of the Administration was thrown in favor of the villains who committed these depredations, these insidious instruments of tyranny, by falsifying the whole affair, succeeded in greatly modifying the vehemence of popular indignation. There remains one step more for the slave-power to take, and then for the free laboring, sturdy yeomen of the north there is but one alternative to a condition worse than slavery—and that is intestine war. The Slave power is not itself the enemy from whom the greatest danger is to be apprehended, for its designs are open and avowed, and its numerical strength is not sufficient alone to make it dangerous; our real foes are these corrupt demagogues who in the guise of friends would lead us blind over the precipice of ruin, to be hurled headlong into that abyss which has for ages been the burying place of Liberty. Great as the danger is, the remedy is yet with the people. They may yet replace the government on the basis, upon which it was founded. It is still in their power to check the growth of that gigantic evil, which threatens their freedom with destruction, and hurl it from that high place which it has usurped in the councils of our nation. It remains to be seen whether they will suffer themselves to be lulled to sleep while the last terrible game is played. The corrupt leaders of that organization, which insults mankind by assuming the sacred name of Democracy, will still, as they have ever done, lend the whole strength of their influence to the consummation of the designs of the Oligarchy. They are even more submissive than they have ever been. By their aid every encroachment upon the rights of the North has been made; and it is manifest that their help will be wanting to consummate the last grand scheme of villainy. This is the corrupt mass which threatens the life of our constitutional freedom.

The question is soon to be decided, which was broached in the Cincinnati platform under the specious name of "State Rights," and for which the Dred Scott decision has paved the way; whether this noble North will be a land of freemen or a land of slaves. Unless this heap of corruption be ejected from office and from power, it is not uncertain on which side the scale will turn. The Republican party is the only party which occupies the position of direct antagonism to this favorite design of the Slave-Power. It is the only organization through which any effectual resistance can be made to a scheme which would place Northern laborers on a level with the poor whites of the South—a condition more abject and degraded than slavery itself. The leaders of the Republican party are men of incorruptible integrity; and on the success of the principles which they advocate, hangs the social and political salvation of America.

Will the freemen of Ohio prove at the election of October next that they at least will take warning from the melancholy fate of Republics whose people are now writhing under the iron rod of the Despot, by expelling this festering mass from the political body or, will they permit it to gnaw at the vitals of our freedom, till it pierces her heart, and on the prostrate ruins of Constitutional liberty is erected an absolute Republic.

Republican Legislature.

As this body is being charged by certain Locofoos editors with having prolonged its session to an unusual length, it may be well enough to remind these gentlemen of facts as they appear on record.

It might be well for them to remember that the Locofoos Legislature of 1851, commenced its regular session on the fifth day of January of that year, and closed on the 34 day of May following, making a session of four months lacking two days. That this same Locofoos Legislature commenced its extra session of that year, on the 15th day of November, and closed on the 14th day of March following, being a session of four months, lacking one day. That the next and last Locofoos Legislature, being that of 1854, commenced its session January 24, and closed May 1st, making another session of four months lacking one day—while this outlandish Republican Legislature commenced its first session January 7, 1856, and continued to April 11th, a period of only three months and four days, and commenced its extra session January 8th, 1857, and continued to April 18th, a period of only three months and a half—thus showing the two sessions of this Republican Legislature to be the shortest of any held in the State, by any Legislature since the year 1843, or for the last nine or ten years. The session of 1850-51 continued from Dec. 2d to March 26th, just four months lacking seven days.—That of 1843, from Dec. 4th, to March 26th, nearly four months.

The above stubborn facts we copy from the Kenia Free State. They are a perfect and complete answer to the senseless clamor of the Locofoos press of the State about the waste of time, and the length of the session. We have read every day for a fortnight, in the Statesman, railing accusations against the Republican Legislature, and have been treated to a daily promise in the same paper, of a scathing review of its enormities; but as yet, no bill of particulars has been filed. As we said when the session closed "we would not defend all that was done, or that was left undone by the Legislature," yet we are well assured that, take the session as a whole, it will be found upon examination, to have been one of the best Legislatures that have been in this city for many years, while the moral tone of the members was such as to command the respect of all good men.—Ohio State Journal.

The receipts of the American Colonization Society in April were $36,673, including a donation from Mr. Herr, of Mass., and $12,034 from proceeds of sale of the McDonough estate in New Orleans, being the first payment of the legacy left by him. The Society's ship Seneca will sail from Baltimore for Liberia, May 16th.

Governor of Nebraska.—Letter writers from Washington state that Orrille Clark, of New York, has the best chance for the Nebraska Governorship. Col. Richardson, of Illinois, will not take it. The appointment is to be made immediately.

The Republicans carried the municipal election at St. Paul Min., on the 6th inst., by 400 majority. Where was Sam?

The riot on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad has been quelled, and order again reigns along the line.

NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

Utah Affairs.

Washington, May 25.—It is estimated that the troops now moving in the direction of Utah comprise about 3000 men. There are two vacant Federal Judicial Judgeships in the Territory, which will soon be filled, and probably another Marshal appointed as preliminary to enforcing civil process; and, in event of opposition on the part of Mormons to this, the military will be employed to enforce the laws, and protect citizens of the United States from Mormon oppression. It is supposed, however that no necessity for extreme measures will arise. The Governorship of Utah is still unsettled, although several gentlemen are solicited for the position. The government is evidently anxious to elect one who will combine personal bravery with administrative credits and unquestioned discretion. The programme of operations for Utah will be consummated with the least possible delay.

Later from Kansas.

St. Louis, May 25.—Advices from Kansas to the 21st say that Stanton had issued a proclamation for the election of delegates to the Constitutional Convention to be held on the 3d Monday in June. Returns from 19 out of 26 counties comprising 9,251 legal votes are received from which it appears that many Republicans are going over to the Free State National Democracy. Also that an attempt is being made by Northern Democrats to send Free State men of that party to the Convention. Ely Moore, formerly of New York, has been solicited to run for Congress.

Later from Havana.

New York, May 21.—The steamship Black Warrior arrived from Havana with dates to the 15th inst. A report was current at Havana that the Spanish steamer was hourly expected, and would bring orders for the immediate commencement of hostilities against Mexico, to be opened by a naval attack upon Vera Cruz. The sugar crop was nearly harvested, and the crop will fall short of last year's about twenty per cent. Prices still have an upward tendency. The present stock at Havana and Matanzas is 271,000 boxes.

Escape of Prisoners.

Madison, Ind., May 22.—Six prisoners, among them Buck McKinley, who was confined on charge of murder, broke jail last night. An aperture in one of the cells and one in the roof, through which they had previously escaped, had not been closed. The cell door only being locked with wire, one of the prisoners made a key with which they unlocked the cell, escaping as before. None have been recaptured so far.

From Kansas.

St. Louis May 23.—A correspondent of the Democrat says that a force of dragoons and artillery left Fort Leavenworth a few days since to fight the Chyennes, who, it is reported, have concentrated at the Republican Fork of Kansas and Blue Rivers. Worcester, Mass., May 21.—There is considerable feeling here in consequence of the acquittal of three persons charged with murder and a fourth, whose case was nolle prosequed before the Supreme Court.

From New Orleans.

New Orleans, May 21.—The Captain and owner of the schooner McLean were seized a few days ago on suspicion of fitting out a slave. They have been put under bonds of $3,000.
